Changing Places' team of expert organizers help you achieve clarity, order & peace of mind in your spaces.

A study conducted by Princeton University identified a direct link between uncluttered, organized living and the brain's ability to concentrate. "When your environment is cluttered, the chaos restricts your ability to focus."

"Clutter makes you distracted and unable to process information as well as you do in an uncluttered, organized, and serene environment."

Changing Places creates functional, de-cluttered spaces that promote prosperity & health.

WHAT OUR CLIENTS SAY

"These guys are amazing! Very professional. It was my first time using this type of service. It's pricey, but worth it. For a busy mom juggling a demanding career and kids, it's perfect. It's made my space more efficient. I will be hiring them again" - Najla, San Francisco

"We so enjoyed working with your entire team. Thorough and sensitive with tremendous spatial design vision and a dash of good humor is how I would best describe your crew. We are so relieved to finally be settled in our new home. Kirk and I will always fondly remember your great contribution to that." - Kathryn Citron, Mill Valley
