

CHANGING PLACES

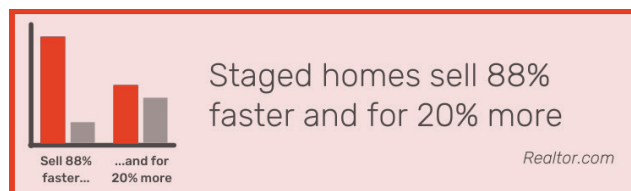

The Alternative To Staging

Did you know Changing Places stages homes using your own furniture?

How do we do this?

- de-clutter: closets, cabinets and storage spaces
- de-personalize: allow potential buyers to envision themselves in your house, not you
- remove excess furniture, art and knickknacks
- save you money through light staging
- get the property on the market quickly, while packing you to move
- make it fun, effortless and easy

"We had a wonderful experience with Changing Places. Katie warmly walked me through different options from light staging with our furniture and their styling to full-fledged staging. I never thought we would end up having our home professionally staged from top to bottom, but that's just how it ended up working out for us, and I'm still astounded at how quickly and professionally everything got done! Within a week of our thorough, free initial consult, everything was scheduled to a T, and ended up being executed beautifully."

"Changing Places is a very reliable source during any move, purge, or home preparation. Simply said, any time you're "changing places," they are miracle workers, and very resourceful and trustworthy. I could not recommend them more!"
